Cultural Competency Training Program

MISSION STATEMENT

To improve access to quality health care in underserved communities through the provision of community health education, continuing professional education and recruitment of health professionals for underserved areas in West Tennessee.

Cultural Competency Training Program

Goal:

To increase cultural competency of healthcare providers practicing in medically underserved areas of rural and urban West Tennessee.

What is Cultural Competency?

According to the National Office of Minority Health, which was established in 1986 by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, cultural and linguistic competence is a set of congruent behaviors, attitudes and policies that come together in a system, agency or among professionals that enables effective work in cross-cultural situations. 'Culture' refers to integrated patterns of human behavior that include the language, thoughts, communications, actions, customs, beliefs, values and institutions of racial, ethnic, religious or social groups. 'Competence' implies having the capacity to function effectively as an individual and an organization within the context of the cultural beliefs, behaviors and needs presented by consumers and their communities. (Adapted from Cross, 1989).

The Importance of Cultural Competency

Cultural competency is one avenue used to close the disparities gap in healthcare. It sets the stage for consumers and healthcare providers to communicate and provide services without cultural differences hindering the conversation. Healthcare services that are respectful of and responsive to the health beliefs, practices and cultural/linguistic needs of diverse individuals help to improve the likelihood of positive health outcomes.

WTAHEC's Role in Cultural Competency Training

West Tennessee Area Health Education Center, Inc. partners with colleges and universities in West Tennessee to provide cultural competency education and training opportunities to students enrolled in health professions training programs. The agency also provides cultural competency continuing education training and workshops to health care professionals/providers.
